

To whom it may concern

Jamee taught at Flipside Circus from 2012-2014, and during this time proved herself to be an exceptional circus trainer and a valuable member of our team. Jamee started as a casual trainer, but soon became one of our contracted trainers.

Jamee's role at Flipside Circus included teaching on circus classes with students from across our whole school – Kindy, Beginner, Intermediate, Performance, Specialist and Social Circus programs. She co-directed large school shows with casts of over fifty students, many of whom were first time performers, and introduced dance and movement skills to her students to complement their circus skills.

Jamee is able to appropriately tailor her teaching style and lesson content to the age, skill level and fitness level of her students, and her teaching style made her a firm favourite with her students and their parents.

As well as teaching, Jamee was responsible for creating lesson plans for her speciality classes (aerial), documenting her work on classes, writing semester reports for her students, ensuring incident reports were completed as needed and communicating with the administrative staff.

In all activities and tasks that she undertook, Jamee's good nature, initiative and calm focus shone through. Jamee was at all times professional, reliable, punctual, and her positive attitude made her a joy to have in the space. She worked well with all members of staff, students and parents, and was always a good representative for Flipside Circus.

I have no hesitation in recommending Jamee for any similar positions.
